

Year 1999

September, 12-14, 1999, Bucharest

The CoR Symposium "How to ride the global wave - Avoiding crises and wars, building common projects" - the symposium took place under the aegis of the Club of Rome and was organized by the Foundation for Strategy and Development in cooperation with ARCoR, Curentul S.A. and the Black Sea University Foundation.

ARCoR in cooperation with the Romanian Academy, United Nations Development Programme and Black Sea University Foundation was involved in the preparation of the following publications:

- National Strategy for Sustainable Development, a comprehensive multi-disciplinary study involving the academic and business communities, trade-unions, government agencies, and civil society.
- Millennium III, a quarterly learned journal conceived as a workshop of ideas and projects regarding European integration and global civilization.